A Letter from Bishop Gregory O'Kelly SJ
Bishop of the Diocese of Port Pirie
Apostolic Administrator,
Archdiocese of Adelaide

Dear Brothers and Sisters

Concerning Resignation of Archbishop Philip Wilson

A televised interview was held this morning in which a panel of Mrs Pauline Connelly, Fr Philip Marshall and myself addressed the topic of the resignation of Archbishop Wilson as Archbishop of Adelaide.

Among the comments I made were that the Archbishop's resignation brings to a close a time of uncertainty and anxiety in the local Church. People have been experiencing sentiments of shock, anger and disillusion as the debate over whether or not the Archbishop should resign has been carried on. There has also been resentment expressed at the way in which the Archbishop has been portrayed.

There are varying levels of sadness we are dealing with. Firstly, that of the victims. The issues that were raised during the controversy of the past few weeks have stirred up feelings of pain and distress among people who have suffered abuse at the hands of Church personnel, and now have had to undergo the agony of reliving the recollections of those experiences.

Secondly, there is the level of pain experienced by the Catholic communities as the Church they love has been seen to be in such distress, even though often self-inflicted. Hence the feelings of hurt and anger, and the confrontation of their loyalty.

Thirdly, there is the pain of the Archbishop himself who has had to come to terms with this distressing scenario. His statement announcing his resignation focusses on the pain of the victims and expresses the hope that his resignation may be a catalyst for healing. We recall all the good he has done in this regard, with the Adelaide Archdiocese under the leadership of the Archbishop being the first to establish a Child Protection Council, and out of that the Child Protection Unit, and the Police Check Unit, following on from his experience as a reformer in the Diocese of Wollongong. Confronting and painful as it is for him, he has come to the determination that his resignation is the only appropriate course of action in order to strengthen healing.

As a Church we must listen and learn, acknowledge our deficiencies, and work to ensure the strengthening of our resolve to purify and improve the Church in its protection of people at risk, especially minors and the vulnerable. The Holy Spirit is leading us in the listening and rebuilding, and adopting the outlook of transparency and accountability, while encouraging rightful lay leadership in the Church. My position as Apostolic Administrator remains until the Holy Father determines otherwise, and that will in time involve the appointment of a new Archbishop for Adelaide. The Papal Nuncio will commence the process of enquiry and consultation.

Let us pray for each other, for those who suffered abuse, for an open leadership of the Church, for our faithfulness in following the Gospel, and for the person of Archbishop Wilson as he faces a future hitherto not envisaged. We are earthen vessels, but the presence of Christ Jesus will continue to strengthen us.

In Him

+Gregory O'Kelly SJ
Bishop of the Diocese of Port Pirie
Apostolic Administrator, Archdiocese of Adelaide.

A MESSAGE FROM ARCHBISHOP PHILIP WILSON

I write to inform you that on July 20, I submitted to the Holy Father, Pope Francis, my resignation from the position of Archbishop of Adelaide. I have now been informed that His Holiness has accepted my resignation.

Though my resignation was not requested, I made this decision because I have become increasingly worried at the growing level of hurt that my recent conviction has caused within the community. I had hoped to defer this decision until after the appeal process had been completed. However, there is just too much pain and distress being caused by my maintaining the office of Archbishop of Adelaide, especially to the victims of Fr Fletcher. I must end this and therefore have decided that my resignation is the only appropriate step to take in the circumstances.

I hope and pray that this decision will be a catalyst to heal pain and distress, and that it will allow everyone in the Archdiocese of Adelaide, and the victims of Fr Fletcher, to move beyond this very difficult time.

I want to thank the priests, deacons and religious in the Archdiocese of Adelaide for your generosity and selflessness in your care for people, particularly the most vulnerable in the community. I wish you every blessing and I know that my successor will ensure that your good work will remain central to the life of our Diocese.

To the many men and women in our Diocesan offices in the Archdiocese of Adelaide, I sincerely thank you. You have been central in our work and I am very proud of what we have been able to achieve over the years.

I again want to thank you and to let you know that I admire you greatly.

And to all who serve daily in our agencies, parishes, and in our school communities, both as employed staff and as volunteers, I want you to know that I have always been moved by your kindness of spirit and your willingness to live out your love of Jesus in the serviced of the Church and of the people in your care. I thank you.

Please accept my assurance that all of you will be in my daily thoughts and prayers for the rest of my life.

Yours sincerely

+Philip Wilson

Novena Prayer for the Feast of St Mary MacKillop

Bountiful God you filled the heart of Mary MacKillop with hospitable love, especially for those at the margins of our society. Deepen that love within us that we may be: welcoming of the stranger, willing to share our resources, prepared to forgive offences and hurts, ready to listen with open hearts and eager to work for justice and unity.

Companion us, generous God, wherever there is an edge of need. God of life we pray through the intercession of St Mary MacKillop for renewed faith, hope and zest for life. In the spirit of the Mary of the Cross we pray for all suffering the effects of natural disasters, recession and war either in our own land or elsewhere. We pray for the sick, the imprisoned, asylum seekers and those in need or difficulty of any kind. We pray that we never see an evil without trying to do something about it. May we grow in trust in Your providence, hope in the saving grace of Jesus Christ and courage in the transforming work of the Holy Spirit and thus imitate the example of St Mary MacKillop in our lives. Amen
Our Father.... Hail Mary.... Glory be...
